The Daily Courant.

Saturday, July 14. 1722.

Venice, June 20.

ADVICES from Constantinople say, that Sig. Emo, Bailo from this Republick to the Ottoman Port, was very well received at the Audience he had on the 28th of March last of the Grand Visier, who presented that Minister with a fine Horse and rich Furniture. Those Letters add, that the Grand Signior had ordered several of his Eunuchs and some of the Women Attendants on the young Prince, his Nephew, to be put to Death, but do not mention the Cause of that severe Order.

Venice, July 4. General Wallis is arrived here from Vienna and is going to his Government at Messina. Cardinal Schrottenbach having continued a while at Padua, is gone from thence for Germany. It is reported, that the Commissaries that were appointed by this Republick to inform the Grand Signior of the Conduct of the Bashaw of Napoli di Romania, are arrived at the Dardanelles, but have received Orders to continue at Sesto, where they are to be met by Turkish Commissaries who are to examine into the Matters in Dispute.

Rome, June 23. Cardinal Cienfuegos having taken on him the Character of the Emperour's Plenipotentiary at this Court, has fixed his Residence at the Palace Pamphilia, and gave a magnificent Entertainment there on the 19th Instant to several Persons of Distinction in this City who accompanied him thither. The Dutchess of Salviati has given 30000 Crowns to her Son in Law the Constable Colonna towards defraying the extraordinary Expences he is obliged to be at in the Ceremonial of presenting in the Emperour's Name the Pad to the Pope. The News that was received last Week of the Turkish Preparations, of their Fleet's Arrival in the Archipelago, and of some of their Ships also in the Gulf of Venice, has occasioned great Uneasiness here, and the Pope designs to hold a Congregation of Cardinals to consider what Precautions must be taken in so perillous a Juncture.

Genoa, June 27. The Neapolitan Man of War the Sta. Barba sailed Yesterday for Messina, having on board General Zumjungen Commander of the Forces in Sicily, with several German Officers, and among others Colonel Carraras, who is going to his Government at Trapani. The Master of one of our Barks who is lately come from Tabarca, reports, that four Malteze and Sardinian Gallies are cruizing in the Seas of Tunis and Bicerte, to hinder the Ships of Barbary from coming out of their Ports; and that three Algerine Corsairs of 60 Guns each were put to Sea to join others that are cruising off the Coasts of Spain.

Stockholm, July 1. The Danish Envoy Major General Arnold arrived here on the 26th past. The Imperial Minister Count Freytag has communicated to the foreign Ministers his Remarks on the Proceedings made concerning the Dispute between him and Major General Schwerin: That Affair is sent back to the Court of Justice in order to have Sentence passed upon it agreeably to the Law of Nations. The Russian Resident had a Conference Yesterday Morning with Count Gyllembourg, Chancellour of the Court, and Messrs. Cederhielm and Hopken, Secretaries of State: It is said the subject Matter of that Conference related to the Demand made by the Muscovite Resident to have this Court acknowledge the Czar's Imperial Title. It is not yet said what Resolution the Court will take on that Head.

Dantzick, July 4. It is reported, that a Russian Officer who came hither lately with Colonel Vittinghoff from Moscow, has proposed to the Duke of Mecklenberg on the Part of the Czar, that his Czarish Majesty will allow the Duke 8000 Rix-dollars a Month for his Subsistence, if he will go and reside at the Castle that is prepared for him near Riga.

Vienna, July 4. It is reported that the Czar is in Treaty with the Duke of Mecklenberg to purchase his Dominions, in order by that Means to be received into the Number of the Princes of the Empire. The Court has given an Answer to the Demands of the Czar's Minister, and has also sent it to the Imperial Diet. It was signified to him, that when Maximilian gave the Title of Emperour to the Great Duke of Muscovy, it was upon no other Grounds than as it is done usually to all the Eastern Princes; besides, it was then given without the Participation of the Empire, and in a time of bloody War, when it was not once imagined that ever the giving that Title would be drawn into Consequence afterwards: That when a Czarian Prince obtained an Archdutchess in Marriage, he embraced the Romish Religion, and was not Sovereign of Muscovy; and consequently, that Particular can no ways enforce the Czar's Pretensions as to a Voice in the Diet: And, as to Mecklenberg, the Czar may likewise address himself to the Diet of the Empire. Four Trinitarian Fryars set out after To-morrow for Pera near Constantinople, to reside there pursuant to the Treaty of Passarowitz. The Emperour has established a Commission of Revisal, to terminate more speedily the Tryals at Law; by delaying of which the Lawyers are enriched, and their Clients undone. It is said, the Czar's Army of 120000 Men, is in full March towards the Persian Frontiers, where 'tis believed he will not meet with great Resistance, nor find means of subsisting, and of making considerable Progress.

Ratisbon, July 9. Since the Emperour's Decree concerning Religious Affairs has been communicated to the Diet, nothing considerable has passed; the Ministers wait for Answers from their Sovereigns on that Subject. Advices from Munich say, great Preparations are making there against the Electoral Prince's Marriage: Those Advices add, that the Elector is to augment his Troops considerably, and that they are to be in a readiness to march into Italy in the Emperour's Service, in case of Need.

Brussels, July 13. It is generally discoursed here that the Marquess de Lede is about marrying the Countess d'Anappes, a rich Widow at Lisle: The Marquess is at present at a Seat of his Sister the Countess of Bornhem, situated between Cambray and Valenciennes.

Hague, July 17. 'The States of Holland are 'not yet come to any Resolution concerning their 'Receiver-General's Affair; he was Yesterday summoned for the third Time, but has not hitherto made his Appearance before the Council of State. Advices are received here, which came by the French East India Ships lately arrived at Brest, that the Dutch Fleet had met with a violent Hurricane beyond the Cape, by which two of their large Ships perished, the Cargo of a third was entirely spoiled, and five of the rest are yet missing. The Wind being still contrary, Count Staremberg designs to set out To-morrow for Amsterdam. The Bavarian Minister having made a verbal Notification some Days ago to the States, of the Electoral Prince's Marriage with the Archdutchess, has now delivered to them a Letter from the Elector, acquainting them with that Particular.

'made
